ABSTRACT

AndroRat (Android Remote Administration Tool) is one of the Client or Server applications written using the basic language of Android or Java. By using the AndroRat application, you can fully control other people's Smartphones through computer devices. This is certainly quite useful if you want to know the activities of children using a Smartphone.

While to be able to use the AndroRat Application, you just have to install the application on the victim's Smartphone. The good news, when the hacking process is done the victim will not see what you are doing on their Smartphone.
